This public document was promulgated at an annual cost of $2,961.66 or $7.38 per copy to provide a compilation of significant information about the State University System of Florida.

FOREWORD

FACT BOOK 1983-84 is designed to provide timely, accurate and comparative data about the State University System of Florida. It is intended for use by individuals interested in higher education in Florida. Our primary goal is to present summary information in a form which is easy to understand. Information is provided in the form of tabular displays, charts, graphs and a glossary of terms and abbreviations.

Data in the FACT BOOK were gathered from a variety of sources. The primary source documents were the State University System Data Tapes, the Higher Education General Information Survey Reports (HEGIS), annual financial statements, operating budgets, and reports required by the United States Office for Civil Rights.

Although the data presented in the FACT BOOK have been carefully prepared and thoroughly checked by the Board of Regents Staff and the Data Administrators at each University, there is still the possibility for error. Therefore, if you intend to excerpt portions of this document for publication elsewhere or use its data in major policy development or analysis, we recommend you contact our staff to ensure that you receive any post-publication changes. In order to help this communication, we have placed the initials of the Board of Regents Office responsible for the data presented in the lower left corner of each table or figure. The initials are expanded in the glossary. In addition, a directory of Board of Regents Staff by responsibility has been included.

STATE UNIVERSITY SYSTEM OF FLORIDA

The State University System (SUS) was established formally in 1905 when the legislature passed the Buckman Act which consolidated the various post high school institutions into three under a Board of Control. After consolidation, the System consisted of the University of the State of Florida in Gainesville, and Florida A&M College and Florida State College for Women in Tallahassee. As the desire for an education continued to grow throughout the state and students demanded advanced instruction within commuting distance of their home, the urban areas started to compete for degree-granting institutions. By 1963, University of South Florida in Tampa was operating, Florida Atlantic University in Boca Raton was on the drawing board, and two more institutions, one in Pensacola and one in Orlando, were authorized. In order to enhance coordination of this growing system, the Florida Legislature established the Board of Regents as the single governing board of the state supported universities.

As originally established in 1965, the Board of Regents consisted of nine members; today, however, that number has increased to thirteen. The membership now includes eleven representatives from various geographical areas of the state, who are appointed by the Governor for six-year terms, a student Regent appointed for a one-year term, and the Commissioner of Education. Chief administrative officer of the Board of Regents is the Chancellor. The Board and Chancellor are supported by an office which is structured according to major functional areas: Office of the Chancellor which includes Equal Opportunity Programs, Internal Management Auditing, General Counsel, and Corporate Secretary; Academic Programs, which includes program review and academic planning; Administration and Support which includes information resource management, business and financial operations, construction administration, and personnel programs and labor relations; and Office of Budgets.

The Board of Regents is involved primarily in selection of university presidents and policy making--its responsibilities include adoption of Systemwide rules and policies, planning for the future needs of the SUS, evaluation and coordination of program development, to name a few. Responsibility for the operation of each institution is delegated to the universities. In the state organizational structure, the Board of Regents is placed under the State Board of Education as "the Division of Universities." Thus, the State Board of Education is charged with the responsibility of approving or disapproving all rules and regulations adopted by the Regents and adopting and transmitting to the Governor the SUS Legislative Budget Request.

Today the University System consists of nine universities which are placed throughout the state: in Gainesville, the University of Florida; in Tallahassee, Florida A&M University and Florida State University; in Tampa, the University of South Florida; in Boca Raton, Florida Atlantic University; in Pensacola, the University of West Florida; in Orlando, the University of Central Florida; in Jacksonville, the University of North Florida; in Miami, Florida International University. There are twelve off-campus centers located throughout the state. Also, the University of Florida Institute of Food and Agricultural Science (IFAS) administers seven agricultural research and education centers in addition to 69 county cooperative extension programs. The University of Florida and the University of South Florida have medical schools. UF provides internship and residency programs on campus at Shands Teaching Hospital. USF is expanding its program to include a Cancer Center and Shrine Hospital.

Many important events occurred in 1983-84. The University of Florida concluded its national search for a new president with the selection of Marshall M. Criser. Delores Auzenne, Systemwide EEO and Affirmative Action Officer, died December 30, 1984. The Board of Regents authorized the University of West Florida, the University of North Florida and Florida Atlantic University to implement lower division programs. As a result, all nine public state universities are now authorized to offer lower and upper division programs. With commitments to establish 51 endowed chairs throughout the System, the State University System Eminent Scholar Program has become one of the most significant and innovative programs for achieving excellence in public higher education. Other highly successful cooperative ventures between State University System institutions and the private sector include the UNF agreement with the UNF Foundation, Inc., for the construction of student residence halls and the historic affiliation agreement between USF and the University Psychiatric Center, Inc., for the development of psychiatric programs. Academic program reviews of Business Administration, Visual and Performing Arts, Library and Archival Sciences, Home Economics, Philosophy and Religion, and Architecture and related programs were conducted. The State University System continues to be involved in one of the highest funded capital construction programs in the nation.

CONCEPTS FOR REPORTING FLORIDA'S PROGRESS TOWARD EXCELLENCE IN EDUCATION IN UNIVERSITIES

In January 1981, the State Board of Education adopted the following resolution:

> On a statewide average, educational achievements in the State of Florida will equal that of the upper quartile of states within five years, as indicated by commonly accepted criteria of attainment.

There are many dimensions to the quality of service rendered by our universities. The Board of Regents formally adopted indicators to be used as criteria for determining the State University System's progress.

Upper Quartile Measures for Comparisons With Other States	Foundational Measures for Determining Progress Within The State University System
Appropriations per headcount student.	Education value added as measured by CLAST scores.
Average full-time faculty salaries by rank.	Endowed chairs, number.
Full-time scientists and engineers employed at public universities, number.	Graduate Record Examination scores.
National Merit Scholars, number.	Percent of full-time faculty by highest earned degree.
Research library rank.	Progress toward student goals of the State Plan for Equal Access and Equal Opportunity.
National rank of program, school or college, where existing.	Specialized or programmatic accreditation.
State financial aid per student.	Student/faculty ratios.
Strengthening undergraduate education.	Student follow-up studies, findings (placement and performance).
	Contracts and grants per faculty member.

The State Board of Education concurred with these measures and added the following additional indicators.

Admissions tests scores of students enrolling for the first time.	Licensure examination results of graduates.
Average full-time faculty salaries.	Progress toward the faculty and administrator goals of the State Plan for Equal Access and Equal Opportunity.

NOTE: The first annual report of State University System (SUS) and national data concerning the above measures, covering the 1981-82 academic year, was submitted to the State Board of Education (SBE) early in 1984. This first report serves as a baseline to determine subsequent progress toward the SUS's upper quartile and quality improvement goals. During 1984 the Board of Regents staff gathered 1982-83 SUS and national data for incorporation into the second annual report of progress toward increasing quality. Several measures originally listed in the first annual report were dropped with the concurrence of the SBE because of the unavailability of appropriate data. When the second annual report was compared with the first annual report, evidence of quality improvement was found for the following measures; average full-time faculty salaries, the number of national merit scholars enrolled as first-time-in-college students, the number of endowed chairs, progress toward the student goals of the state plan for equal access and equal opportunity, progress toward the faculty and administrator goals of the state plan for equal access and equal opportunity, the number of accredited programs, admission test scores (SAT & ACT) of students enrolling for the first time, and the passing rates of SUS graduates on state licensure examinations.

During 1985 the BOR staff will gather comparison data from the 1983-84 academic year for the third annual report on quality improvement.
